STANHOE is a delightful north Norfolk village, centred around a crossroads and a large natural pond which provides habitat for geese and wildfowl. There is a highly-regarded village pub, The Duck Inn, about which food critic Giles Coren wrote, "the food here was properly good."

The village lies about 6 miles inland from the North Norfolk coast, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, famed for mile upon mile of sandy beaches and never-ending skylines.

The nearby villages of Burnham Overy Staithe and Brancaster Staithe offer natural harbours and amenities for sailors, which, along with links golf courses at Brancaster (The Royal West Norfolk) and Old Hunstanton, as well as jump racing at Fakenham, are some of the leisure pursuits in the region.

About four miles to the north east is Burnham Market, one of Norfolk's most well-known addresses. A large, thriving village with handsome, principally Georgian properties set around a grassy Market Place (also known as The Green), the village offers a varied selection of traditional shops and hostelryes with barely a high street chain in sight.

There is a mainline railway connection from King's Lynn to London Kings Cross in 97 minutes.
